BOISE, Nov. 4 (P)—Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, today blamed confusion on the sale of surplus wheat to Russia on the devious way he said the administration arranged the sale. In an address to the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce, Shuman labeled the wheat deal another example of news management by the executive branch. "Instead of handling the matter in a straightforward fashion,"

Gem District Revision Being Eyed

BOISE, Nov. 4 (P)—Legal action aimed at bringing court-ordered revision of Idaho's two congressional districts was reported in prospect today.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie said he had heard the reports but did not know whether they will result in court action.

"Frankly," he added, "I would be hopeful of such litigation. The distortion of representation in the two congressional districts is at least as difficult a problem as that of legislative apportionment, which is involved in a suit now in federal court."

The reports said the lawsuit, which likely would be filed in U.S. district court, would ask the court to wipe out the two districts and require that Idaho's two representatives in congress be chosen on an at-large basis.

Asked to comment on these reports, Smylie said that although the at-large method of electing congressmen "would not be ideal, it would at least provide equality of representation."

Valley Area Man Gets Grassman Title

BOISE, Nov. 4 (P)—Gwyn F. Rice of Hill City was announced today as Idaho's grassman of the year for 1963. His selection was announced at the All-Idaho congress of the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce. Rice raises sheep and cattle in Camas and Elmore counties, using about 5,000 acres of which 1,500 acres is in improved native pasture. He began farming in the Hill City area in 1939 in partnership with his father, the late Dale E. Rice. Much of the original vegetation along Camas creek was wet-land grasses and sedge and it was reclaimed gradually, being replaced with canary grass and meadow foxtail.

Rice won in competition with three other district winners. They were John Dayton, Geneva; Glen Judge, Sagle; and Theron Adcock and Jack Nicholas, Oreana, competing as a team.

Those four were chosen from among 31 county candidates.

Legislative Council Eyes New Director

BOISE, Nov. 4 (P)—Idaho's legislative council interviewed four candidates for council director today.

Rep. Pete T. Cenarrusa, R., Blaine, council chairman, said it was hoped selection could be completed "during the group's one-day meeting."

Sen. Jack Murphy, R., Lincoln, chairman of a screening sub-committee, said only four appeared for personal interviews as names of all four were submitted. The interviews were in executive session.

Murphy said seven or eight applicants had been expected in Boise for interviews.

The four who appeared are Thomas E. Elshorst, Jefferson City, Mo.; Harry D. Baxter, Columbus, O.; Courtnay Walker, Frankfort, Ky.; and Myron Schlichte, Denver. All are employed by the legislative council in their states.

The 1963 law setting up the council specifies the director may be paid up to $10,000 a year from the two-year appropriation of $60,000.

Church Says Europe Must Take Greater Defense Role

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (P)—Sen. Frank Church, D., Ida., says Western Europe must begin paying its own way or face the possibility of withdrawal of American armed forces.

Church, writing in the November issue of Harper's magazine, said the presence of American troops in Europe is no longer a "charitable mission."

He said Europe must make a fair exchange for America's nuclear deterrent by at least forestalling the diffusion of nuclear he said, "the administration sent up all sorts of trial balloons, leaked bits and pieces of the proposal to newspapers, and in general sought to condition the American people to the idea of dealing with the Soviet enemy."

"The idea was to give the impression there had been a change in sentiment favoring trade with the Russians. Secretary of Agriculture Freeman added his opinion that farmers favored the sale by a 90 to one majority."

"In the midst of all the news management, the administration suddenly indicated the Soviet Union had not asked to buy wheat of the U.S. The bewildered citizens began to wonder—who had started the whole thing."

"It is also interesting to note that at no time did the administration suggest it would let congress consider whether the U.S. trade policy with Russia should be changed."

"The administration instead brushed aside a congressional policy declaration of 1961 which opposed the sale or export to Russia of any subsidized agricultural commodity."

Shuman asked why the administration didn't let congress decide whether it wanted to change this earlier policy and whether the wheat deal was tied in with the Russian test ban deal with Russia.

"To further confuse the public," he added, "President Kennedy's announcement of his decision to sell wheat to Russia."

"The 1960 census showed that the population of Idaho's second district is nearly twice that of the first district. The first district (See GEM DISTRICT, Page 2)

Stikker Says Reds Quarrel To Continue

PARIS, Nov. 4 (P)—NATO Secretary-General Dirk U. Stikker warned today against hopes that Russia's quarrel with communist China will eventually lead to Soviet alignment with the West.

Addressing NATO's ninth annual parliamentary conference, Stikker told the alliance Moscow and Peking still aim at spreading communism throughout the world, although "communism now speaks with two voices."

However, the former Dutch foreign minister said the rift between the two communist powers seems likely to continue. He said it is "much more than ideological."

China regards Russia as "almost a Western and white nation which is refusing to help China at the sacrifice of its own growth," he said.

Stikker also said nationalism is threatening the Western alliance in a similar way.

With France apparently in mind, Stikker said some NATO members "hold firmly to the line that they must retain full national control of their armed forces, and that integration beyond a limited degree is not compatible with the exercise of the responsibilities of sovereign governments."

Atlantic partnership and European union are complementary, not competitive ideas, he said.

TEXAN DEFENDS DALLAS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (P)—Rep. Bruce Alger, R., Tex., said today Dallas was a city "proud, courageous, truly the home of the brave" and must not be discredited.

King Hussein's government announced it intended to abide by the cease-fire worked out in Mali last week. Two officers from Mali were expected at Algiers sometime today to try to keep the peace.

Dispatches from Algiers said Mali officers already were at the Tunisian on the Algerian side and expected to meet with those on the Moroccan side.

Mali and Ethiopia were named to a military truce commission set up to enforce the cease-fire. The Ethiopian commission members were expected to reach the frontier shortly.

Church said there were present trends which "point toward the disintegration of the Atlantic alliance."

Trapped German Miners Start Work to Aid Own Rescue Effort

BROISTEDT, Germany, Nov. 4 (P)—Eleven trapped German miners went back to work today to help in their own rescue nearly 200 feet down in a flooded iron mine where they were caught 11 days ago. Once given up for dead, they were reported laughing and joking. As a huge drill bored its way toward them, the men worked in two shifts to reinforce the roof of their tiny chamber to keep it from collapsing when the bit breaks through, probably Wednesday.

Three other miners were rescued Friday, 86 others escaped when the disaster struck, and 29 others are missing and given up for dead.

A mine spokesman said the men had not been told when the rescue shaft is expected to be completed, but were cheerful despite their long ordeal and confidence of being saved.

Acting on leads from other miners, the mine management early Sunday had a narrow test shaft bored near the main pit-head.

Miraculously the drilling hit a tiny air pocket 196 feet down where the 11 men were entombed.

Fired by this stroke of luck, test borings were begun about two miles away. Mining experts believed a huge air pocket may contain five or six miners there.

Rudolf Stein, the mine manager, said chances were extremely slim that any miners there would be alive.

After the 11 men were found, a microphone was lowered to them along with food, clothing, an electric cable and a light fixture.

The men reported they were in generally good condition. But they had been subsisting on water and reported their legs were swollen from too much liquid.

The men said their compartment is 15 feet long, six feet wide and seven and one-half feet high.

Moroccans Urge Meet on Border War

RABAT, Morocco, Nov. 4 (P)—Morocco urged the Organization of African Unity today to meet quickly, after reporting Moroccan forces beat back several thousand Algerians in a new frontier battle.

Morocco bolstered army patrols along the northern border near Figuig, a Moroccan oasis that was the center of Sunday's battle.

King Hussein's government announced it intended to abide by the cease-fire worked out in Mali last week. Two officers from Mali were expected at Algiers sometime today to try to keep the peace.

Dispatches from Algiers said Mali officers already were at the Tunisian on the Algerian side and expected to meet with those on the Moroccan side.

Reds Spark New Berlin Road Crisis, Halt U.S. Convoy

BERLIN, Nov. 4 (UPI)—The Soviets touched off a new Berlin crisis today by halting a U.S. army convoy at a Soviet checkpoint on the 110-mile highway linking West Germany to West Berlin. The army postponed a Berlin troop maneuver scheduled for tomorrow and troops remained near their barracks ready for any eventuality. The allied commandants met to decide what action to take. In Washington, Secretary of State Dean Rusk called in acting Soviet Ambassador Georgi M. Kornienko and told him the Russians were trying to change convoy practices "which have existed over a period of years" involving western access to Berlin.

Diem's Brother Jailed by Junta

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, Nov. 4 (UPI)—The ruling military junta was reported today to have jailed Ngo Dinh Can, brother of assassinated President Ngo Dinh Diem, to protect him from mob violence in the old imperial city of Hue, 400 miles north of Saigon. Reports of rising tension in Hue were received here as the junta issued an anti-communist program for the nation pledging freedom of the press and religion, a quick return to constitutional government and assurances there will be no military dictatorship.

Leaders of the military junta assured the nation they overthrew the Diem regime because they could not have defeated the Communist Viet Cong under his leadership and because they feared mass desertions from the army as a result of his anti-Buddhist policies.

Although Saigon was calm, tension was reported in Hue where the first repressions of the Buddhists began on May 8 when government troops fired on Buddhist demonstrators and killed nine of them. Ngo Dinh Can had ruled the area with an iron hand for the Ngo family.

Hue long has been one of the most virulent centers of hostility toward the Diem regime and military sources said Can was arrested because it was feared mobs would attack him in reprisal for his crackdown on Buddhists and his arrest of 2,000 Hue students.

However, after the meeting of the army, postponed for 24 hours a maneuver scheduled for tomorrow in West Berlin's Grunewald woods, it was to have involved several thousand soldiers of the 6,000-man U.S. garrison with small British and French units.

The army announcement said merely the exercise was postponed "due to circumstances of the day" (See BERLIN CRISIS, Page 2)

Kornienko replied that he knew nothing about it but would relay Rusk's statement to Moscow. When the Russians halted a U.S. convoy for two days on Oct. 10, the state department called it a "misunderstanding." Today, a state department spokesman told newsmen they could "draw the conclusion" that it was more than a mere misunderstanding.

The convoy of 44 men in 12 trucks and Jeeps was halted at 9:01 a.m. at the Soviet checkpoint at Marienborn at the western end of the 110-mile highway to Berlin.

Berlin's western allied commandants met to discuss the latest harassment and a spokesman said they reached "complete agreement on the issues involved and how to deal with the situation."

But a spokesman did not disclose what would be done to enforce the West's right of access to the isolated city.

FIVE-DAY FORECAST
The forecast pressure pattern during the next five days is expected to show an extension of the Gulf of Alaska low pressure center dipping southeastward into the Pacific Northwest at the surface. Aloft a fast westerly flow from the Pacific ocean is expected to dominate the Intermountain region.

Under this pattern temperatures through Saturday are forecast to average two to four degrees below normal with frequent but minor day to day changes. Maximums will generally range in the 40's to 50's and minimums in the 20's and 30's through Saturday. With frequent invasions of the agricultural areas by Pacific storm systems, minimum temperatures will tend to be held near or above normal levels but maximums will be held slightly below normal values. Temperature normals through Saturday are: Gooding, 32 and 32; Twin Falls, 33 and 29; and Burley, 32 and 27.

Precipitation totals will average .15 to .30 of an inch over agricultural valleys with snowfall expected over higher mountain elevations. Rainfall over lower valleys is forecast for midweek, around Wednesday, and again near the end of the week, around Friday or Saturday.

Sunshine will be cut to about 40 per cent of possible with daytime cloudiness averaging five to 10 per cent coverage. Wind will average 10 to 15 miles per hour and become gusty and shifting with each Pacific storm system passing across southern Idaho.

SUMMARY
The latest weather charts show a fast westerly flow aloft from the Pacific ocean carrying surface disturbances eastward fairly rapidly. One such disturbance is now moving into eastern Washington and eastern Oregon causing cloudiness and intermittent rain over agricultural valleys. This disturbance will be moving eastward with skies becoming partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday. A few showers are possible tonight and will continue over eastern valleys tomorrow.

Partial clearing and cooler weather Tuesday will give way to increasing cloudiness spreading into southwest and southcentral valleys Tuesday night. From the next weather disturbance now making up in the eastern Pacific, daytime temperatures will hold in the 40's to low 50's today and tomorrow. Nighttime minimums will range from the upper 20's to mid 30's tonight. Slightly higher minimums can be expected Tuesday night.

Late season harvesting and other farming activities will be hampered by periods of rain this week. Seed crops ready for threshing will have poor drying conditions making any work time quite limited. Beef and potato harvesting will not be hampered too greatly but some fields may become wet enough by the end of the week to delay digging.

TEMPERATURE AND PRECIPITATION
Weather at 8 a.m. CST: Highest temperature Sunday, lowest temperature last 12 hours, precipitation for 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. CST.

Heavy Snow Plasters New England

CHICAGO, Nov. 4 (AP)—A heavy snowstorm moved northward today after plastering northern New England with up to a foot of snow. A thoroughly chilled Atlantic seaboard thawed out.

Temperatures slid into the 20's and 30's along the Piedmont and in the Appalachians during the night.

Richmond, Va., and Charleston, W. Va., had low readings of 26 degrees. It was cold, too, over most of the northland as far west as the Rockies.

The storm which drifted out of upper New England into Quebec left five to 11 inches of cover on northern Vermont and New Hampshire. Jackman, Me., had 12 inches, but snow was drifted in places to three feet.

Greenville had an eight-inch snow-carpet.

The new closed some highways along the St. Lawrence river and trapped about 100 motorists on a highway west of Quebec.

In Jackman, Maine, wardens waded through waist-high snowdrifts in an unsuccessful search for Ernest LeBlanc, 40, a hunter from Tolland, Conn., missing in dense woods since Saturday night.

NATO Leader Says Soviet Threat Great

PARIS, Nov. 4 (AP)—Allied Supreme Commander Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer said today the communist threat to the West remains as great as before the Moscow nuclear test-ban agreement.

But he added that the communists cannot have failed to notice the implication of stepped-up western military capabilities resulting from the airlifting of a complete U.S. armored division through exercise "Big Lift" last month.

Lemnitzer addressed the opening session of the annual conference of Parliament members from 15 North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) nations.

He said there has been no "softening" by the Soviets in their relations with NATO as a result of the Moscow test-ban pact. He said, however, that it has had a psychological effect in the easing of world tension.

Berlin-Helmstedt; autobahn" but it was believed the maneuver was postponed to keep troops close to their barracks in case of emergency.

The Russians refused to pass the convoy because the convoy commander, First Lieut. John Lamb, North Augusta, S. C., rejected the Soviet demand the soldiers leave their vehicles and be counted.

A similar Russian demand that soldiers dismount to be counted last month held up an American convoy for 48 hours and a British convoy for nine hours.

he Russians were told today that soldiers in such small convoys, do not dismount, but the Russians replied that they, not the western allies, will determine how convoys will be processed.

The Soviet statement was considered a challenge to the Western rights of free access and Maj. Gen. James Polk, Berlin's American commandant, sent an order to the Russian checkpoint to explain the western position.

Pastor Fasts
To Protest
Mental Laws
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 4 (AP)—At 4:30 p. m. today, the Rev. George Tobey, jr., Albuquerque, will have gone without food for six days and without water for about 54 hours.

The reverend is fasting to protest procedures used to commit persons to mental institutions, claiming there is a conspiracy among some judges, lawyers and psychiatrists to put people in the institutions for reasons other than mental illness.

He claimed child custody and property acquisition have been the reasons for some commitments.

Yesterday, the Rev. Mr. Tobey said he was "experiencing extreme stomach pains." He steadfastly maintained, however, that he will fast until something is done about the commitment situation.

He is not affiliated with any church but is forming his own, which he calls the Evangelical Episcopal church. He attended Episcopal school in Fresno, Calif., and was ordained a minister in the Assembly of God church.

Gem District
District includes all of northern Idaho and a portion of southern western Idaho, including Canyon county, which is the second most populous county in the state.

The second district takes in the remainder of Idaho, including Ada county, the largest in the state, and Bonneville, Bannock and Twin Falls, which rank next after Canyon.

Reports of the potential lawsuit say it would be at least partially the result of a ruling by a three-judge federal court panel in Texas. That ruling held that Texas laws establishing the 23 congressional districts are unconstitutional because of disproportionate representation they permit.

Smylie has urged revision of Idaho's congressional districts at the last two sessions of the legislature but no acceptable plan has been devised.

Indonesia Envoy
Called to U. S.
Consultations
JAKARTA, Indonesia, Nov. 4 (AP)—The Kennedy administration has summoned its ambassador to Indonesia, Howard P. Jones, for consultations amid expectation the United States may take a tougher line toward President Sukarno.

Jones is due in Washington Nov. 12, after a conference with diplomats in the Philippines.

There has been some clamor in the United States for curtailing aid to Indonesia because of Sukarno's hostile attitude toward neighboring Malaysia.

'Amor' List
CAMBERLEY, England, Nov. 4 (AP)—William Morris, chairman of an association of tenants in a housing development, charged today that a member of the city council has drawn up "a black list of amorous women" living there.

Morris said the councilman issued the list to prevent utility meter readers and maintenance men from being "compromised by some women tenants."

"There are fewer than a dozen names on the list," Morris said, "but it casts a slur on all wives. It has created a lot of suspicion."

The issue is expected to come up at the next council meeting.

Stabbing in Car Probed
Twin Falls county sheriff's deputies are investigating a stabbing in a car Sunday morning near Murrenburg in which Fernando Escobedo, a Mexican laborer, was injured. He was treated at Magic Valley Memorial hospital and released from the hospital Monday morning.

Sheriff James H. Benham said he has not talked yet with any of the Mexicans who were in the car. He said city police were holding Luis Morales, 25, Murrenburg, who took Escobedo to the hospital early Sunday morning, for being drunk. Morales was arrested by city police.

Sheriff Benham said he was going to talk with Morales to try to determine who stabbed Escobedo. It is reported an argument occurred in the car about who was going to drive.

Grain Sale
Decision to sell wheat to Russia stressed the point that it would not involve a subsidy to a foreign purchaser.

"By this device he sought to distract attention from the fact that an export subsidy of 50 to 60 cents per bushel is necessary for the sale of U.S. wheat at world prices."

Shuman said the Farm Bureau has no policy covering the specific sale of wheat to Russia and the issue of policy on future sales will be considered by voting delegates to the federation's annual convention in Chicago in December.

Problems of public school financing were aired at a panel discussion, headed by Dr. D. R. Theophilus, president of the University of Idaho, and Dr. Donald E. Walker, president of Idaho State university.

Man, Woman Rob Church In Helena

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 4 (AP)—A man and woman armed with a gun and knife held-up a church custodian and his wife for $30 Sunday night after being talked out of harming the middle-aged couple.

Authorities issued all-points bulletins for the couple which had indicated they were headed for Olympia, Wash., to find a Lutheran minister, identified only as the Rev. Mr. Ott.

At least one of the pair was feared to be a user of narcotics and desperate, officials said.

Robbed were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Shannon, whose residence is in the basement of St. John's Lutheran church in Helena.

The couple also had stopped at Helena's First Lutheran church during the afternoon where the man identified himself to the Rev. Martin A. Baumann as Robert Harris. He said he had served time in the Washington state prison on a narcotics violation.

Briton Chief Fights Hard For Election

PERTH, Scotland, Nov. 4 (AP)—Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home campaigned hard in this highland constituency today to counter reports he may win next Thursday's by-election easily but not very impressively.

In the 1958 general election, Conservative Candidate W. G. Leburn won this Kinross and West Perthshire constituency by a solid 12,248 votes. The by-election, caused by Leburn's death, was expected to give Sir Alec a seat in the house of commons and a chance to lead his parliamentary party in person.

But four London newspapers, in reports from this area, said Douglas-Home's majority Thursday may be far below Leburn's.

The newspapers, reflecting opinion from all three political parties, said that, with seven candidates in the field, Douglas-Home may get less than half of the vote.

None of the newspapers doubted he will hold this "safe" Scottish constituency by several thousand votes. But the Laborite Daily Herald predicted a majority of only 3,000 votes for Douglas-Home—far below Leburn's majority—and said he could win "a miserable victory" of only 4,000 votes or less.

Pakistan Orders Direct News Flow to Stop

KARACHI, Nov. 4 (AP)—The government has put into force an order requiring all foreign news agencies to cease direct dissemination of news to newspapers in Pakistan.

The order had been pending since March, 1962. Last March the U.S. embassy notified the foreign offices that enactment of the order—which requires that international news be distributed exclusively through national agencies, would violate the treaty of friendship and commerce between Pakistan and the United States.

The embassy said it has received no formal reply thus far.

Johnson Lauds Benelux Nations

LUXEMBOURG, Nov. 4 (AP)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, arriving for a week's visit to the Common Market's "little three," said today that Luxembourg, Belgium and The Netherlands were "in the vanguard of the new Europe."

He said the three nations, by forming the Benelux community shortly after World War II, showed the way for the larger communities which followed, the coal and steel community and the European economic community.

"We approve, admire, and applaud your responsible efforts and responsible influence for such unity," he added.

Russ Cuddling Space Pair Launched Into New 'Orbit'

MOSCOW, Nov. 4 (AP)—Cosmonauts Valentina Tereshkova, 26, and Adrian Nikolayev, 34, were in a new kind of orbit today—wedded bliss.

They were married in a glittering wedding Sunday. Soviet chiefs used the occasion to drop hints the world's first cosmic couple may be going back into orbit around the Earth.

The couple, who left no doubt they want the blond Valentina to have children. Among other reasons, they want to study any possible effects of space-traveling parents on children.

Premier Khrushchev introduced each of 21 toasts at the reception, attended by 300 guests including the Soviet Union's political, military, scientific, theatrical and literary great, and the other cosmonauts.

The wedding, at the flower-decked Palace of Marriages in downtown Moscow, was televised.

The reception given by the Kremlin started with a noon wedding breakfast and continued with champagne toasts long into the evening. The newlyweds left on a honeymoon before the last glasses were drained.

Defense Minister Rodio Malin-

ovsky and Chief Air Marshal Konstantin Vershinin rushed up to the newlyweds as they entered the ballroom and presented them a girl doll with a pacifier in its mouth. They said it was a "symbolic present."

The beaming Khrushchev said: "I didn't bring any baby buggies or pacifiers. If you have a baby, the gifts won't fail to come."

He also boasted: "Our people is covering itself with glory. We shall give the capitalist world no peace, since it has to go."

Mrs. Khrushchev accompanied the couple to the party. The premier escorted the mothers of the bride and bridegroom to the head table.

The fathers of both Valentina and Nikolayev died during World War II.

Mrs. Yuri Gagarin, wife of the world's first cosmonaut, was the matron of honor. Yuriy Bykovsky, who orbited at the same time as Valentina last June, was best man.

Mother Visits Son Imprisoned By Red Chinese

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—A Yonkers, N. Y., widow, home from her third trip to Shanghai, says she was told by Chinese communists during visits with her imprisoned son that if she broke any of 12 rules, "I would not be able to visit him again."

Mrs. Ruth Redmond, 65, whose son, High, has served 12 years of a life term for alleged espionage, said Sunday one of the most distressing rules was one that forbade her to talk to him about his possible release.

She said that under the circumstances her son, 44, "looks very well." She was allowed to see him four times.

Politicians Keep Close Tab on Races

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—Leaders of both political parties will keep close tabs on the scattered straws in the wind stirred up in Tuesday's elections.

Of major interest to Democrats: What, if any, is the extent of the so-called "backlash" of white resentment to Negro civil rights demands and activities in major northern cities?

Republican leaders will be scanning the slim results to see what, if any, improvement the party has made in Dixie and the big cities.

At stake are the governorships of Kentucky and Mississippi; the mayor's office in such cities as Philadelphia, Boston, San Francisco, Memphis and Salt Lake City; hundreds of other municipal and state offices; and the state legislatures of New Jersey, Virginia, Kentucky and Mississippi.

Much of the attention will be focused on Philadelphia where Democratic Mayor James H. Tate seeks election to a full four-year term against Republican attorney James T. McDemott.

The city has been the scene of violence and unrest this year stemming from efforts of Negroes to win better jobs, housing and schools.

Both candidates picture themselves as liberal on racial issues.

President Kennedy carried Philadelphia by a whopping 331,000 in 1960. Most Republican leaders believe it was his showing in the large Northern cities that cost them the White House that year. They have made determined efforts since to beef up big city Republican organizations.

Perhaps one-quarter of Philadelphia's two million residents are Negroes. In recent national and state elections the Democrats' estimated share of the Negro vote has ranged between 74 and 82 per cent.

Some analysts see a Tate victory by 20,000 to 60,000 votes. McDemott has said he'll win by 10,000.

The racial issue also hovers in the background of the Kentucky election. Republican Louis B. Nunn has been attacking an executive order issued by Democratic Gov. Bert Combs banning racial discrimination in businesses licensed by the state. The order has been held up by litigation.

Edward T. Breathitt, Jr., the Democratic nominee, at first embraced the order. Now he says he would turn the matter over to the next legislature.

Other issues in Kentucky include Nunn's claim that industry has passed the state by because of high taxes and Breathitt's promise of 75,000 new jobs, expanded highways and parks, and improved farm income.

Nunn also has repeatedly attacked the Kennedy administration. Neither Kennedy nor leading Republicans have campaigned in Kentucky.

The racial problem appears to be the main issue in Mississippi. In past years, the Democrats closed up their political shop after the party primary, because the winner race was challenged.

But this year Republican nominee Rubell Phillip has been waging a vigorous campaign and there are GOP officials in Washington who believe he has a good chance.

The campaign message of both Phillips and the Democratic nominee, Lieut. Gov. Paul B. Johnson, has been simple: Each claims to be the strongest foe of integration in Mississippi and the Kennedy administration in Washington.

Also running—although state officials say his write-in votes won't be counted—is Aaron Henry, a Negro druggist.

Briton Discounts Moon Race Value

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—A leading British scientist said today that given the money available, it would be better to spend it on doubling farm production than going to the moon.

"In the next 40 or 50 years," I don't expect any practical results to be got," he said in a copyrighted interview in U.S. News and World Report.

Fun vs. Vandalism

Many youngsters today attain maturity without ever finding out they eventually must assume responsibility for their actions. These who slide through childhood and adolescence without ever facing that hard fact of life usually discover it the hard way. That may be what happened to three college students at Spokane.

Fun's fun and everyone—children, college students and adults, regardless of age—is entitled to whatever fun he can find in life. It's a necessary relief from the everyday necessity of earning a living, from the common worries and problems that beset everyone. But vandalism is something else. Fun ceases to be fun when it transgresses on the rights or property of others; Here is where vandalism—willful destruction—enters the picture.

There can be no other classification for the activity of the three college students. They slashed 250 tires on more than 100 autos in Spokane. Damage during their spree was estimated at more than $5,000. Fortunately, the trio appeared before a jurist who has a fine sense of justice. After spending 60 days in jail, the three are under court order to contact the car owners personally and make arrangements to pay for the damage.

Prior to their court appearance, all three students had been dropped from the college where they were enrolled. It has been a hard, bitter lesson but the three students must be aware now that they have to assume responsibility for their actions. They also must be aware by now that there's a marked difference between fun and destroying property.

Some segment of society or the family fails in its own responsibility whenever anyone can reach the age of 18 without a clear idea of what's fun and what's vandalism.

WORTH CONSIDERING

The Lemhi County Sportsmen's association has been working on a proposal to establish a special Idaho fund for use in searching for lost hunters. The plan is worth considering, not only because searches for lost hunters can be expensive, but because lives might be saved if proper funds are available to finance a fast, thorough search.

Of course, use of such funds should not be limited to the search for lost hunters. From time to time, others are lost in wild areas of Idaho and it should make no difference what sort of activity took the lost person into the wilderness originally.

There's another reason why such a fund makes sense. A majority of the cases of lost persons is concentrated in some of the most sparsely settled counties of the state. An effective search for a lost person can tax the financial resources of such a county. Besides, the lost person generally is a taxpayer elsewhere.

Lemhi county, by the way, is one of these more sparsely settled counties which experiences a heavy influx of hunters every year. The Sportsmen's association apparently has learned through experience that its sheriff's office has neither the manpower nor finances to organize an effective search. Sometimes these factors cause delays that can be fatal. Usually, too much time has elapsed already by the time a lost person is reported. Time is of the essence.

The Lemhi sportsmen would raise funds through a special tax on hunting and fishing licenses, which could meet with objections. However, if judicious use were made of such a fund, it shouldn't cost each license purchaser more than a few cents a year. The idea is worth researching thoroughly.

HEALTHY INTEREST

Elections are scheduled in most Magic Valley communities Tuesday and if advance indications mean anything, some cities will have record balloting. In such towns as Burley and Kimberly, for example, several candidates have filed for the same office. If voters turn out in numbers indicated by the contests, they can't help setting records.

By way of contrast, Twin Falls held its municipal elections about a month ago. And even with the added attraction of an advisory election on a proposed dog leash law, Twin Falls couldn't seem to arouse interest. Lack of interest in a municipal election—both from candidates and voters—is one of the marks of a community that lacks vim.

When all the votes have been counted around Magic Valley Tuesday, smaller communities may have turned in a lesson for Twin Falls when it comes to election interest. And make no mistake, election interest gives an insight into a community.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—While congress is busy digging into the complex financial affairs of Bobby Baker, the resigned senate majority secretary, it is trying not to notice several bills that would do much to prevent these untidy conflict-of-interest cases on Capitol Hill.

This legislation shouldn't scare any member of congress. The bills merely require that all legislators and their staff members file annual statements listing their financial holdings and income. Had such legislation been in force, congress would not have had to learn from the press that Baker was involved in various vending machine, motel and travel agency projects that cast doubt on his role as a disinterested public servant.

SHY SOLONS—Yet congress has shied away from the legislation with the embarrassed air of an aging movie queen who has just been asked her age by a marriage license clerk. It is not that the boys have anything to hide, you understand, but, gosh all hemlock, it doesn't seem quite dignified or something.

Yet only last years congress legislated up-to-date conflict of interest standards for the executive branch, thereby compounding a situation which Ben Jacob K. Javits, R., N. Y., has called a "double standard of ethics in government." A secretary of the army has to tell all, but the public is supposed to take a congressman's word that he is above reproach, a feat some taxpayers find difficult if not impossible, on the record.

FEW TELL ALL—Javits is not talking out of both sides of his mouth. He revealed his stock holdings and sources of income last March, joining three other senators and eight members of the house in coming clean. These others are Sen. Hugh Scott, R., Pa.; Joseph Clark, D., Pa.; and Stephen Young, D., O.—and Reps. Edith Green, D., Ore.; Morris Udall, D., Ariz.; William F. Ryan, D., N.Y.; Henry Reuss and Robert W. Kastenmeier, D., Wis.; John A. Blatnik, D., Minn.; W. Donlon Edwards, D., Calif. and Robert B. Duncan, D., Ore.

Two provisions found in all the bills would make it at least awkward for a member of congress to vote in favor of his own financial interest. One, besides demanding a statement of all income and financial holdings, would require the legislators and their staff members to report all "gifts of substance." The other would require the publication of all written or oral communications with regulatory agencies in connection with specific cases under consideration on the hill.

IN GLARE OF PUBLICITY—As gently put in a letter from Sen. Clifford Case, R., N.J., and Sen. Maurice Neuberger, D., Ore., to the committee investigating Baker, these provisions would "give pause to officials who might take action that would appear questionable if known publicly." The law would put a crimp in the activities of such as Western legislators whose own holdings make them butt in lobbyists for the oil industry, but it would save the taxpayer some money.

Congress in recent years has been the object of derision for its time-wasting peacocks. Bureaucrats downtown, forced to live in the glare of publicity shining on their own financial dealings, are resentful of a holler-than-thou legislative branch that declines to practice the ethics it preaches. But it is congress' own fault. It is difficult to have confidence in a man supported by the taxpayers who conceals the fact he owns a share or two of stock in a company seeking congressional favor.

Views of Others

WRONG KENNEDY

The National Hat council is elated because President Kennedy has endorsed hats for men though he seldom wears one himself. A friend of the President from wartime PT-boat service who sells hats, got him to say that "a man is not well-dressed without a hat." If the salesman can now persuade the chief executive to wear a hat regularly, the headgear business might boom as did the rocking-chair trade a couple of years ago, though that is questionable.

Where the hat industry ought to concentrate its efforts is among children. Kids used to wear hats or caps all the time, beginning in early childhood with those Buster Brown things that had all elastic band under the chin. Now they had all elastic band under the chin. They, like our young President, are not accustomed to having anything on their heads.

Count the hats you see on the streets of Portland and you'll find that 80 per cent of them are worn by men beyond 50. On a bus the other morning we counted only one male head-covering besides our own—among the 20 or so masculine heads. That was a leather cap worn by a man nearer Ike's age than Kennedy's.

The hat people should appeal to Mrs. Kennedy, rather than to her husband. If she could be induced to put a hat on little John, Jr., a whole generation of youngsters quite likely would become hat wearers who, when they grew up, would feel undressed without something on their heads. The Oregonian

MOTORING OFFENSES IN BRITAIN

Arguments about the arrest and detention of defaulting motorists are developing in curious directions. The Automobile Association, for example, deplores the fact that the motorist "may find himself treated like a criminal and even detained in a cell." Certainly he may. Sometimes, indeed, he should.

Road traffic laws, even parking restrictions, have as one of their purposes the reduction of danger on the roads. When more than 700 children are killed each year in traffic accidents, who can deny that this is a proper purpose? And motorists who treat with contempt the summonses and commands of courts which have to enforce the law cannot expect to do so with impunity.

Considered individually many traffic offenses can seem to be "trivial." Taken together they are an aspect of the motorized society which has got to be controlled. Potentially, we are all criminals now. The danger is not that some motorists may sometimes be forcibly reminded of this fact but that the authority of the law may be weakened by contempt.

No warrants for the arrest of a motorist should be issued without proper consideration, or before he has had full and proper opportunity to bring himself within the law. Recent cases suggest that some courts have been too ready to use the big stick. But they do not entitle motorists as a class to claim immunity from the sanctions of the law. The Sunday Telegraph, (London)

GRIBES

One of the great blessings of our form of self-government is the right to gripe about the government. The theory is that our constant griping keeps the government on its toes. The trouble with the theory is that, if it worked, and if we were honest about it, the government would soon be on its toes, and then we wouldn't have anything to gripe about. The trouble with griping is that it gets to be a habit. Newport, N.H., Argus-Champion

POT SHOTS

CRIMPS YOUR STYLE?

Dear Pot: If there's anything that will jolt a driver awake, it's a new traffic light or a change in an old one. And lately I've been jolted a couple of times.

We were sailing down Second avenue west as usual when someone hollered: "That stop light's red!" Well, sir, I'll tell you I just managed to stop and if the brakes had failed, I'd gone right through the intersection.

Then a few weeks before that I was driving down Shoshone street and became aware there was a change in the timing of that light at Shoshone and Sixth. Unless you speed a little, no one's going to make both traffic lights—the one at Sixth and the other at Fourth—in the same cycle.

Someone's interfering with my driving habits!

KITTENS FOR KIDS DEPT.

Dear Pot Shots: We would like to find a good home for a beautiful gray cat with yellow eyes that came to our house. It appears to be about 3 or 4 months old and is part Siamese. We have grown fond of it but have another cat and can't keep it. This delightful pet would make some child happy. If interested, phone 733-2244 or come to 1142 Blue Lakes circle.

FORMER COMPLIMENT

Remember when Dad thought it a compliment to be called a square? Politicians offered a square deal, people would square up all bills. But times have changed.

Nowadays only oddities are called "square." The fellow who pays his wife in life is a square; the student who doesn't cheat is called a square; the American who gets a lump in his throat when he salutes the flag is considered a square; the fellow who does a little more than is expected of him—on the job or in school—is a square.

This is a time for young people not to get carried away by sick thinking. A square is made up of straight lines and a straight line is still the shortest distance between two points.

With God's help, stand squarely on your own two feet, look the world squarely in the eye, be square with God and with your fellow man.

Then you won't have to try every angle to get what you want, nor will you be forever running around in circles.

Hope this will answer "A Parent" in your column a few days ago.

Interpreting the News

By JAMES MARLOW

(Associated Press News Analyst)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—French President de Gaulle, almost 73 now, said once: "Old age is a shipwreck." But, if the waters of time are lapping at his decks, he is still a captain and very much a critic.

The Kennedy administration's duel with him, compared with de Gaulle's ominous and blunt suspicions about a common market, has an almost delicate elegance in its pointed but restrained thrusts.

Repeatedly the administration has criticized him without naming him, as if still trying to be neighborly with the man next door who keeps honking his horn all night and building fires on the sidewalk.

De Gaulle, dreaming of a resurrected France since his father talked to him about it in childhood, must be realistic enough to know France lacks the resources to be a No. 1 power again, like the United States and Russia.

But really he clouds a dream. And de Gaulle, perhaps out of frustration and injured pride, persists in making France sound bigger than it is if only by the tactics of obstruction and hostility.

He had blocked Britain from joining the Common Market and endangers the Western Alliance by suggesting Europe cannot depend indefinitely on the United States, its pledged ally, to stand beside it in time of danger.

Nevertheless, the Kennedy administration tips around him. Not so Sen. J. W. Fulbright, an Arkansas Democrat who doesn't have to deal directly with the Frenchman.

The other day in the senate, Fulbright, chairman of the foreign relations committee, slammed head-on into de Gaulle. De Gaulle recently boasted that France not only isn't borrowing from others, "particularly Americans," but is paying off its debts to them and "even on occasion is granting them certain facilities."

Fulbright reminded him dryly that France still hasn't paid the United States almost 6.5 billion dollars it has owed since World War I. Back of Fulbright's attack was de Gaulle's news conference stunts last July 29.

De Gaulle had another news conference July 29 and took another dig at this country by suggesting that in time of danger from Russia the United States might not imperil itself by standing beside its allies.

The de Gaulle belittling technique was getting stronger. On Oct. 27 Secretary of State Dean Rusk also went to Frankfurt and reassured the allies of American loyalty. And almost timidly, it was so oblique, he told them they were not putting in NATO all long yowlage home worthwhile, don't they?

A man who wants to remain reasonably honest of soul has to keep silent and make his comment by way of sounds and gestures.

He can smile, chuckle, ooze, gurgle or pretend to be so affected he has to wipe away a happy tear—anything to escape telling the full truth.

The safest thing is to resort to the half-truth. Simply say, "Why, she reminds me of a movie star." You don't have to add what movie star she reminds you of. Maybe Lassie—or Marie Dressler playing a witch's role.

The surest way to become a social outcast in these times is to resort to humor. It is always out of place.

I recently took part in a cocktail party where a blonde woman had been boring me with a collection of family photos, and I had run out of ready answers. "Get you can't guess who this is?" she said coyly, holding up a faded snapshot.

"A refugee from the Johnstown flood?" I guessed wildly.

The lady hardly hesitated a second. She reached up and calmly and slowly poured her martini over me. The photo was one of her made in her teens.

I felt rather ally standing there in the middle of a crowded room with aghast glances, at my big, square head.

COVERING THE CAPITAL WITH PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (NEA)—Plans are now shaping up for the world's largest and most important international conference. This is the United Nations conference on trade and development, scheduled for Geneva, Switzerland, March 23 to June 16, 1964. From 1,500 to 2,000 delegates and trade experts will attend. They will come from 120 countries.

The U.N. member states including the communist bloc countries as well as West Germany, Switzerland, Korea and others not yet members, but cooperating with U.N. specialized agencies. But not Red China.

While the United States, with one vote, could be overwhelmed at such a conference, it is obvious that nothing will be agreed that the western nations, controlling 70 per cent of world trade, do not approve.

The U.S. delegation of about 50, including clerical help, will have Under Secretary of State George Ball as its senior official, with G. Griffith Johnson, assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, as its active head.

The delegation will include two senators, two congressmen and four representatives of private business interests yet to be selected.

At a December meeting in New York, American business leaders will be given a briefing and a chance to express their views on U.S. government trade policy papers now in preparation.

Nobody knows for sure what may come out of the Geneva conference. It is not expected to produce another international trade organization charter like the one drafted at Havana in 1947-8, which the U.S. congress refused to ratify.

A new United Nations specialized agency on trade has been suggested separate or under the U.N. economic and social council.

Another idea is to let special sessions of the general assembly, held every two years, review existing world trade patterns and recommend actions to improve them.

The six working committees into which the conference will be divided to cover its agenda, after about two weeks of general debate, include: International organizations, commodity problems, and price levels, state trading, expanded manufacturing for developing countries, foreign aid for trade development, and development of "invisible exports"—services to the new nations.

The Geneva conference will have nothing to do with liberalizing East-West trade as a result of the opening provided by communist bloc purchases of free world surplus wheat.

It is not expected there will be any immediate reorganization of the general agreement on tariffs and trade—GATT—in which rates are agreed to by free world countries.

The preferential trade relations now being given by the European Common Market countries to their former colonies present a special problem. This has bothered other Asian, African and Latin American countries.

The United States also has chickens to try with the Common Market. An American position in opposition to dividing up the world into regional areas, being trade barriers may therefore be expected.

From the American point of view, the principal work of the Geneva conference should be to improve the trade, economic and balance of payments positions of the new nations.

Their most frequent wall is that all their troubles are the fault of the developed nations, which import raw materials now in oversupply at reduced prices while charging more and more for the industrial equipment they export.

The other side of this argument is that the developing countries don't do as much for themselves as they should. They don't use private enterprise enough and their state-controlled economies don't have adequate planning. They don't develop export industries, don't diversify their economies, don't control inflation or fiscal affairs.

Soviet Russia and the communist satellites which strongly supported calling of this conference, apparently want to use it to set up a new international trade organization.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Why do we have an appendix? This little blind alley is an offshoot of the junction of the large and small intestines. It may have served a purpose in our prehistoric ancestors, but its main function now is that of occasional troublemaker.

Although operations for appendicitis are not as common as they were 60 years ago, the disease still occurs. Although—Dr. Brandstadt it is not as common in persons under 15 years of age as it is in those who are older, it still occurs in young children and infants.

The importance of appendicitis in children lies in the fact that the disease is harder to recognize in children. When appropriate treatment is delayed, serious complications may lead to death.

The reason it is hard to recognize in children and infants is that they cannot communicate their feelings as accurately as adults and their symptoms are more variable.

For example, the infant with appendicitis does not always have the divisions they had promised.

This could be interpreted as a slap at de Gaulle. Rusk didn't say it was. But Fulbright was direct. He said "for too long France's voice has been a voice of negation and dissent within the Western community."

And, when he meant de Gaulle, he said de Gaulle. He suggested the Frenchman get over his pride.

a fever or a severe pain in the abdomen. Some abdominal pain, often mild, is almost always present and the child usually vomits at least once. More commonly, the child generally is irritable, restless and refuses to go to sleep. These are vague symptoms and do not prove that the appendix is to blame.

If your child is irritable and feeding him makes him worse, you should call your doctor.

I want to stress this because an inflamed appendix can become obstructed and the resulting abscess can burst in less than 24 hours from the onset.

When the appendix bursts, infection spreads through the abdominal cavity. The result is peritonitis and this is still a serious and often fatal complication. Although your child's irritability may be only a touch of colic, a cold or the measles, you cannot afford to take a chance.

Since feeding a child who has appendicitis can make him worse, he should not be fed. Giving him a laxative is even more dangerous because it causes all the muscles of the digestive tract to contract. Contraction of the muscles of the appendix induced by giving a laxative has caused many an inflamed appendix to burst.

If the child has been taking antibiotics for any reason, this may mask the symptoms as to make an early diagnosis almost impossible.

Because of the potential risks, therefore, surgical removal of the appendix should be undertaken as an emergency as soon as the diagnosis is made.

Appendicitis is definitely less common in children than it was 40 years ago, complications are less commonly seen and the death rate is lower.

'CHICAGO' BRIDGE

NEW DEVELOPMENT
A new paperback book by N. W. Pearson is called "Chicago Bridge." It has nothing to do with a bridge in Illinois, but concerns itself with a version of the game which has achieved great popularity in card clubs.

passed-out hands are redealt. Mrs. Pearson is a member of the board of governors of the Regency club and plays Chicago there regularly.

Her jump to three no-trump was a slight overbid, but Chicago players tend to overbid a trifle. West opened the five of hearts and Mrs. Pearson had a chance to try her skill at finesse. The finesse would have worked, but it might also have cost her the contract.

Instead she went up with the ace and led the ten of diamonds. East held off, but the suit was continued and eventually the 10 was knocked out.

There was nothing further the defense could do. Actually they attacked clubs. Mrs. Pearson won the third club trick and claimed her contract with five diamonds, two aces, one king and one club.

Past Premier Wins Upset in Greek Vote

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 4 (AP)—Former Premier George Papandreu's Center Union party won an upset victory today in the Greek parliamentary elections.

It was not immediately clear, however, whether Papandreu's party had won a majority of seats in the 300-member parliament or whether it would be forced to form a coalition government.

No change was expected in Greece's pro-Western alignment. Foreign policy played little part in the campaign in this NATO nation on the alliance's strategic eastern flank.

Papandreu, 75, leader of Greece's government-in-exile in World War II and its first post-war premier, charged Caramanlis had governed this birthplace of democracy as a police state.

Gymnasium Filled to Rafters For Madama Butterfly Show

By MRS. KURT MOSS

An enthusiastic audience filled the O'Leary junior high school gymnasium to the rafters to hear grand opera Saturday night as "Madama Butterfly" was presented by the Boise Philharmonic orchestra.

Obstacles inherent in such an undertaking are formidable, but under Jacques Brouman's expert direction, cast and orchestra performed magnificently. Outstanding above all was Helen McVey's "Butterfly." Her beautiful soprano voice soared over all difficulties without a fault. To the eye, she presented the little geisha in love in the first act, in tragic despair in the second and third acts, totally believable. There was no unnecessary movement and, most important, no western gesture to destroy the illusion. Few "Butterflies" manage the difficult feat of combining the beautiful voice with the acting and looks the part demands. Mrs. McVey did it Saturday night.

The success or failure of the opera may hinge on the soprano who sings "Butterfly," but without the support of the others the opera would still be a failure. Mrs. McVey was fortunate in a setting of excellent support.

First and foremost, Marvin Bloomquist's "Sharpless" and June Schmitt's "Suzuki" deserve high praise. Clair Johnson as Lieutenant Pinkerton was devil-may-care in love in the first act.

Surely to all who attended the need for an auditorium in Twin Falls was made abundantly clear. The need for it was underlined—as if that was necessary—by the beknighted souls who thought to improve things by microphones and speakers fastened to the railing of the improvised orchestra pit. The effect was infuriating on those who had part of their vision cut off by the speakers or worse, their eardrums insulted by the rattling emanating from the speakers if a singer came close to the microphones. All were well aware of the acoustical insufficiencies of a gymnasium for any musical performance, but one must hope that no one will ever try microphones again. Records and radio, can supply electronic opera. Let us have live opera live and pure and let us hope that Twin Falls will find a way to build an auditorium soon.

This critical note should not overshadow the debt of gratitude we owe Jacques Brouman for his vision and the people of Boise and Twin Falls who made it all possible.

Idea to Sell TVA Raises South's Ire

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (UPI)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's statement that the Tennessee valley authority (TVA) should be sold to private industry is putting some of his admirers in the South on a political spot.

By his remark, the Arizona Republican also has opened the gates to a flood of political oratory from Southern Democrats who could not ask for better ammunition to use against the GOP presidential contender.

The sprawling government-owned hydroelectric and flood control project is dear to the hearts of politicians in Tennessee and the six other states served by the TVA.

This has been made clear by two Republican congressmen from Tennessee whose overall political philosophy is closer to Goldwater than to any middle-of-the-road.

Reps. William Brock and James Quillen were quick to disassociate themselves from Goldwater's views on the TVA, however much they might agree with him on other subjects.

Brock said he would oppose any move to sell TVA to private industry, although he made certain that his listeners knew he was promoting free enterprise. Besides, Brock asked, who has enough money to buy TVA?

Quillen adopted the same line. He said he was opposed to the sale of TVA "... as much as I believe in the free enterprise system."

Another Republican congressman—not from the TVA area but from the South—said he could not understand why Barry went out of his way to look for trouble. This legislator asked not to be identified by name.

In addition to attacking Goldwater for wanting to sell TVA, some Democrats have pointed out that the Arizona conservative is sponsor of a bill which would create a 1.1 billion dollar irrigation project in Arizona.

Rep. Carl Elliott, D. Ala., called it "a sort of western TVA—for his own state of Arizona."

BOISE, Nov. 4 (AP)—Albertson's, Inc. Boise, reports increases of 7.20 per cent in total sales and 18.45 per cent in earnings for the six month fiscal period ending Sept. 28. J. A. Albertson, president of the grocery chain, said sales for the period totalled $380,113,000. In his quarterly report to company stockholders, Albertson said five stores were added to the chain during the past three months and that plans call for opening of six new food units by the end of the year. Albertson said the chain, which now operates in six western states, will begin operations in Nevada in January with the opening of a super market in Reno.

POCATELLO, Nov. 4 (AP)—Police are still searching for a Boise man wanted in connection with the beating last Wednesday of a 14-year-old Pocatello girl. Officers said Mrs. Jenise Crystal, identified Frank Dumont, 32, Boise, as the man she saw beating Ann Lucinda Sahlgren after viewing several photographs of him yesterday. A warrant charging Dumont with aggravated assault and battery was sworn out last Thursday after his car was traced by a license plate number given police by Mrs. Crystal but positive identification was not established until yesterday. Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sahlgren, is still hospitalized for treatment of severe facial injuries suffered in the beating.

BOISE, Nov. 4 (AP)—A Boise woman was taken into custody Sunday on charges of embezzling more than $3,500 in cash and merchandise from the Boise store of Lerner Shops of Idaho, Inc. Mrs. Alice H. Sholly, 50, was arrested on a complaint filed by William Payne, Denver, chief security officer for Lerner stores. Payne said Mrs. Sholly was employed by the store as a cashier from April, 1957, until Saturday, when she was dismissed. He said the shortage was discovered after the store instituted a new book-keeping system. Mrs. Sholly appeared in Ada county justice court Sunday evening and was released on her own recognizance pending a preliminary hearing set for Monday.

LEWISTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—Idaho public schools "must concentrate more on the essential aspects of education," in the opinion of Ezra Hawkes, Pocatello, president of the state board of education. That must be done, he said Sunday night in an interview, "even if it means we do less for the students' social development." Hawkes said he hopes the state board will be able to employ an executive secretary who could take care of some of its routine. "We are hampered by housekeeping duties and don't give the attention we should to the major policy problems facing us," he said, Hawkes was here to speak at a Boy Scout dinner.

Thin Bear Fur, Hairy Insect Antics Indicate Mild Winter

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—A survey—in depth—of polar bears, turkeys, and the movements of hairy caterpillars pointed today to an inescapable prediction:

Americans face a much milder winter than the one that nearly froze marrow last time around.

The U. S. weather bureau, a conservative organization which is unfortunately wedded to science, refuses to confirm or deny this.

But listen to Ralph Norris, veteran headkeeper of the National zoo: "Why, my gracious, I just inspected Snowstar, a polar bear, and that bear doesn't have any coat to speak of. Real thin-like. If cold weather sets in that bear will have to borrow an overcoat."

This, to Norris, is evidence that Snowstar looks for a clement winter.

To be sure Norris notes that the reindeer have developed real plush coats. But you have to consider the over-all picture, in which squirrels are important.

Squirrels usually stash away nuts against the winter. On a recent Sunday, 40,000 people visited the zoo and dropped a lot of peanuts around.

Ordinarily the squirrels would bury this provender in no time. But Monday morning Norris noted many peanuts still lying around. Which shows that squirrels are unworried about the winter.

Private advices from Winchester, Va., say squirrels there are acting differently. They are really scrambling for acorns. But political considerations may enter into this case.

Winchester is the domain of Dwight D. Byrd, an economist who expects all hands—human and animal—to be diligent and frugal.

From all over come reports that not many hairy caterpillars, or woolly worms, have been observed crossing highways. Last autumn a lot of them did so, in disregard of stoplights, and of course this foretold deep snow and severe cold.

Now we turn to a study of almanacs. "To be sure," the Farmers Almanac says that generally the winter will be warmer—37 degrees average as compared to 34 last year. But it adds that there will be 57 inches of snow. That's 2.72 inches more than last year.

The Hagerstown (Md.) Town and Country Almanac predicts a rain or snow on 21 days during the first three months of 1964. Seventeen other days in the same period are marked fair and cold.

The nearest thing to a long-range forecast that can be wrung out of the weather bureau is this from J. Murray Mitchell, Jr., widely known meteorologist: "I feel that people would be well-advised to prepare as if cold weather lay ahead."

Upon examination, this statement is seen to be hedged. But Dr. Mitchell feels that, in the present state of science, it would be premature to say more.

Eleven Die as Car Crashes Through Barrier Into River

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (UPI)—Police today continued dragging the Harlem river for the bodies of three persons killed with eight others when their car hurtled through a low barrier at the foot of a dead-end street and plunged into the water.

The accident occurred early yesterday as the 12 occupants of the auto were returning to their homes in Brooklyn from a festive christening party in the Bronx. There was one survivor, Isias Martinez, 40, who crawled from the submerged auto and made his way to shore.

There was a warning post a few feet from the point where the car hit the one-foot barrier and dropped into more than 30 feet of water. But the two blinking red lights on it had been broken, apparently by vandals.

Later, City Highway Commissioner John T. Carroll ordered his children, Angel, 1, and Iris, 3. Mrs. Amelia Aponte Velez, 34, and Juan Borrell, 40.

Martinez, who was reported in fair condition at Lincoln hospital, apparently climbed up river pilings to the street. He stumbled to a nearby tavern to report the crash.

Friends of the victims said the party followed the christening of an infant Saturday afternoon. It broke up around midnight, and the 12 persons crowded into the six-passenger sedan for the trip back to Brooklyn.

There were no signs along the Bronx street to indicate it was a dead-end, except for the warning lights erected on a post about 10 feet from the wooden barrier at water's edge.

There were skid marks, indicating the driver made a frantic effort to stop.

Hailey Guard Records Are Checked

HAILEY, Nov. 4 — Idaho national guard auditors from Boise checked the records and inventoried equipment and supplies issued to the Hailey unit of the national guard Thursday and Friday.

Lyle Breffman, executive secretary, says Orval Burr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Burr, Ketchikan, and Don McCoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. George McCoy, Hailey, are the two newest members of the local guard. Burr will be of the local guard Thursday and Friday.

Robert Eskridge has completed his six months of training and returned to the Hailey unit. He has been promoted to private first class. Harold Schaefer, Jr., has been promoted to staff sergeant.

John Rice and William Williams have been promoted to sergeant.

First Lieut. George J. Hellyer has been transferred to the U. S. army reserve.

Debris Eyed For Cause of Death Blast

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4 (AP) — A team of 30 state troopers began sifting debris, piece by piece, today for clues to the cause of an explosion at the Indiana Fairgrounds coliseum.

The squad will go over everything in the coliseum, officers said, to find leads to the origin of a Halloween night blast that killed 68 ice-show-spectators.

After three days of probing the wreckage and listening to eye witness accounts, authorities have derived no cause for the explosion. However, some officials believe linking gas may have produced the concrete shattering explosion that ripped a grandstand section shortly before the end of a Holiday on Ice show.

The death toll reached 68 with four deaths over the week-end. Fire, concussion and rocketed debris also injured 385 persons, and 15 remained in critical condition today at Indianapolis hospitals.

A teen-age concession worker reported seeing a blue haze enveloping the destroyed grandstand just before the blast.

Edward O. Carter, 16, said he was filling paper cups with soft drinks when he heard someone yell, "The gas is leaking. Everybody get out. Get out!"

The youth said he ran and was only three steps out the door when he heard a big boom. Memorial services for the dead were presented in many Indianapolis churches Sunday. Many of the victims were buried today.

Common Market Ministers Eye Farm Problem

BRUSSELS, Nov. 4 (AP) — The European Common Market foreign ministers gathered today for talks on farm problems that could cut the United States' share of the six nations' 122 million dollar grain market.

Common Market Farm Executive S. L. Mansholt was expected to outline his plan for bringing the grain prices of Italy, West Germany, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg into line. Under the trading bloc's charter, food prices must be standardized by 1970, and grain prices determine the cost of bread and other basic goods.

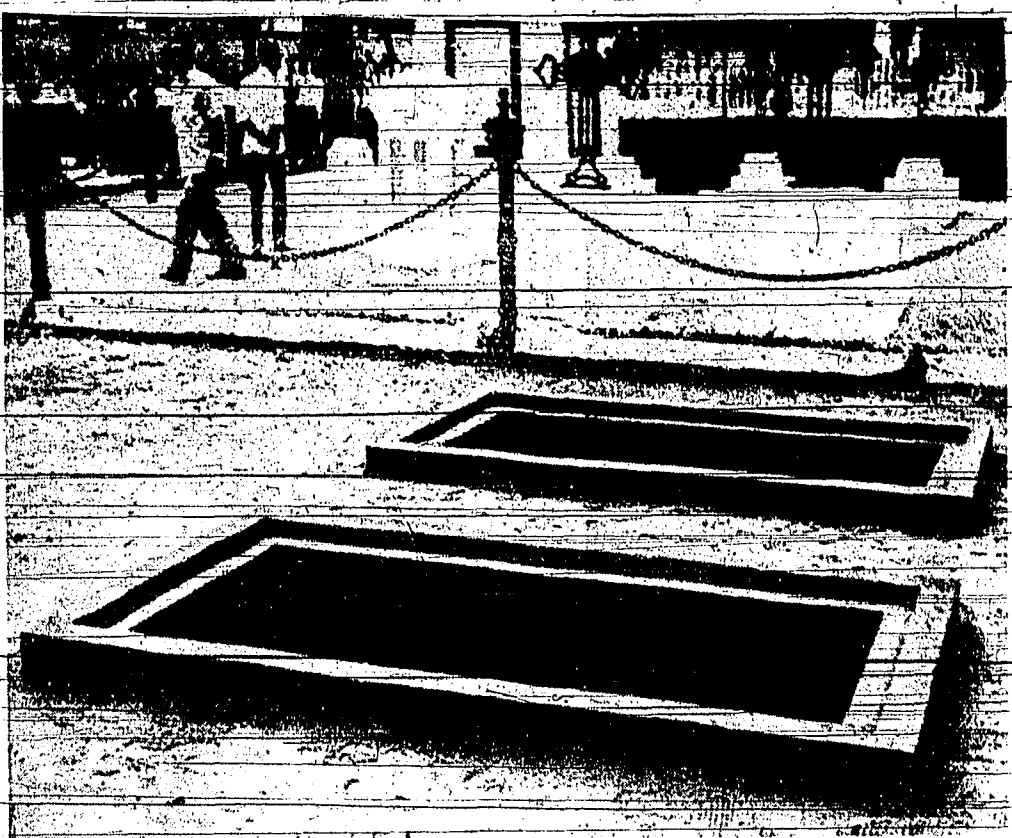

France and West Germany are at odds over pricing policies, and the future of U.S. sales is tied up in the outcome of their dispute.

Phone Company's Open House Set

The switchboard and other equipment used in the front offices have been removed, making room for the event. Mrs. George McCoy, business desk, and her assistants will be hostesses.

Displays, a tour and products and services of the telephone company will be part of the entertainment. Free refreshments will be served.

First Shot

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., Nov. 4 (AP) — The air force today launched the first of a series of research re-entry vehicles downrange over the Pacific with an Atlas booster.

An air force spokesman said the launch began an extensive program to advance the state of the art in re-entry systems. A number of scientific experiments are to be carried out with each flight in the program.

No attempt was made to recover the nose cone package from today's launch, conducted by a combined team from the air force systems command and the strategic air command.

Slow Action For Murder Trial Rapped

BILOXI, Miss., Nov. 4 (AP) — State authorities stood accused today of dragging their feet in bringing to justice the killer of Negro civil rights leader Medgar Evers.

Evers, a field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), was shot from ambush in Jackson on June 12.

The state NAACP chapter, in convention here Sunday, adopted a resolution condemning "the dastardly act of the murder of Medgar Evers which has gone unattended."

It urged that Byron De La Beckwith, a white segregationist accused of the shooting, "and others involved in this heinous crime" be tried immediately.

Beckwith, who was arrested June 22, is being held without bond while the courts decide whether he should be given a mental examination.

Roy Wilkins, New York, the NAACP's executive secretary, urged the convention to cherish the memory of Evers. "If any one ever forgets Medgar Evers, he ought to be shot and put under," said Wilkins. "He's not worth saving."

Wilkins said he would demand that Mississippi congressmen be stripped of their seniority prerogatives if the state Democratic party splits from national Democrats as recommended by Gov. Ross Barnett.

Many shavers cost less than a REMINGTON® 25. Then why do more men buy REMINGTON?

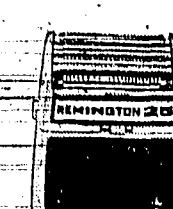

Every REMINGTON® shaver has 348 cutting edges. Made of surgical high-carbon steel, they're sharper, longer lasting than stainless steel. Honed on an angle, they slice whiskers off instead of "plugging" them up.

This is the shaving head. Big—it cuts a big swath. Note the slots. 756 to be exact. Since the whiskers go through the slots to the cutters, the more slots, the faster the shave.

These are REMINGTON® Roller Combs. They're right on top of the shaving head. Adjust to every type of skin and beard. They roll skin down, pop whiskers up into the cutters. Cut them off cleanly, comfortably.

More REMINGTON® Shavers have been made and sold (over 46,000,000) than any other make. Reason enough to pay a little more? Yes.

Although you take life with all the seriousness it demands, it simply is not in you to walk about with a somber expression, a tense nervous system, or a heavy heart. Laughter is your own best medicine, and the medicine that you dispense freely to others. And this is true even when the laugh is on you!

One to whom people are first drawn and then attached, you should never lack for friends, both old and new. It may be that you will never have very much of a material nature to give, but always you will give of yourself, and this, of course, in the eyes of most, is the best gift possible. Only take care that you do not expend all your time and energy on others; there are times when it is to be alone and relaxed is vitally important to one of your generally outgoing nature.

All signs indicate that in marriage you will be one of the rare few who can play the triple role of friend, lover, and highly domesticated mate continuously and successfully. Children especially will add a great deal to your life; it should go without saying that you, in your turn, will add tremendously to theirs.

Among those born on this date are: George Edward Moore, English philosopher; Will Rogers, American humorist; James Earle Fraser, American sculptor.

Youths Grow up Too Fast, Two Educators Say

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—Parents throw teen-agers at each other and then wonder why they stick, according to two educators commenting on the rising rate of early marriages in the United States.

The two, Dr. Emory Stoops and Dr. Max Rafferty, mention the early teen-age parties, the dances, the dating—the "you name it," as part of the social pattern of today's young set.

"Don't be in such a confounded hurry," to get your children into the adult world, the two advise. "Let Susie be a tomboy, climb trees, play sandlot baseball and ride her bike in blue jeans and slung hair. There'll be plenty of time for high heels, perfume, low necks... later."

The two urge parents to work to retain their children's confidence, to have time always to listen and be interested. "And don't condemn, don't moralize," they add.

"When teen-age romance pops up... you can listen, understand and wait."

"Yes," they continue, "you can guide a little, but not too much. Too much interference and they'll tune you out."

When teen-agers talk out their romances with you, they solve most of them just in the talking... that's why you must keep the line of communications open."

Dr. Stoops, father of three, is professor of educational administration at the University of California. Dr. Rafferty, also father of three, is superintendent of public instruction for California.

The two have just published a breezy and short—80 pages—book on child guidance called "Just A Minute, Junior." (Economics Press, West Orange, N. J.) Dr. Rafferty said he had applied the methods described in the book on his own three children and "so far, none of them has wound up in reform school."

They discuss rearing children from cradle to college. They advise against supplying a teen-ager with a car.

"Boy plus car equal lower marks," the two say. And if this fact isn't enough to discourage you, they add, consider these:

Teen-agers need the walking.

His own car gives Willie more mobility; he's harder to keep track of; harder to lay hands on when you want him; the teen-age accident rate is shocking!

The solution when the teen-ager wants a car, the A educators say, is to teach the children to drive the family car. B educators say, is to teach the children to drive the family car. But by de-

Rose J. Wilson Is Married to Blaine Gibson

BOULDER, Nov. 4—Newlyweds and Mrs. Blaine C. Gibson are honeymooning in Hawaii and will reside at 800 Parrot drive, San Mateo, Calif. The bride is the former Rose J. Wilson of Buhl.

The couple repeated wedding vows during noon rites solemnized Oct. 23 in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church, Boise. Dr. Frank Reierick officiated at the single ring ceremony.

Beauty baskets of Ann Lady Go rose colored chrysanthemums and lighted white tapers in brass candelabra formed the background setting for the nuptials. Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Joe Leggett, Boise.

For her wedding, the bride selected a rose wool dressmaker suit. The sheath dress featured a chiffon bodice accented with a scooped neckline and short sleeves. Gold accessories and a rose-colored orchid complemented her attire.

Lois J. Rudy, Buhl, was maid of honor. She wore an amethyst colored suit with rose accessories accented with a pink moss orchid corsage.

Ray J. Holmes, Twin Falls, was best man. Oscar Johnson, Buhl, brother of the bride, was usher.

A wedding breakfast was held after the ceremony at Chapin's Town House. Table decorations included a centerpiece of pink chrysanthemums flanked by silver candelabra with lighted white tapers.

A special out-of-town guest was the bride's daughter, Mrs. Kevin Gavin, Stanford, Conn. Other out-of-town guests attended from Buhl, Twin Falls, Elmer and Boise.

The bride has served as county treasurer for Twin Falls county for the past 20 years and prior to that taught in the Buhl high school.

The bridegroom is engaged in real estate business in San Mateo.

Food for Americans

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Many readers ask for advice on thawing the Thanksgiving turkey. Here is what cooking experts recommend:

Thaw frozen turkeys slowly by one of these two methods:

1. Leave bird in original wrap. Place on tray or shallow pan in refrigerator. Allow one to three days for thawing.

A thawed or fresh, ready-to-cook turkey can be kept on the refrigerator shelf at 38 degrees for one to two days. It is important to remove the brining wrap and to wrap very loosely in heavy duty aluminum foil or one of the plastic wraps. It is not advisable to refreeze.

Another frequent question: How do you make good giblet gravy? Try this tested recipe, particularly if you enjoy the flavor of mushrooms.

GIBLET GRAVY
(About 5 cups)

1 Turkey giblets and neck
1 quart water
1 cup diced celery
1/2 cup diced carrots
1/2 cup diced onion
1 3-ounce can chopped broiled mushrooms
2 teaspoon salt
1 cup cold water

Place turkey giblets which has been split and cleaned, heart and neck, in a two-quart saucepan with water, celery, carrot and onion. Bring to a boil and simmer until tender (about 2 hours). Then add liver and cook 15 minutes.

Remove giblets and chop. Strain broth into a quart measuring cup. Drain mushroom broth also into measuring cup and add water. It needed to make four cups. Place broth, giblets and mushrooms in saucepan. Blend together flour, salt, and cold water, and stir in gradually to hot broth. Cook, stirring constantly until gravy thickens.

When turkey is done, remove it to a hot platter. From the baking pan, pour off all but 1/2 cup of the fat. Place baking pan over low heat, add thickened giblet sauce, and heat, stirring and scraping brown bits in bottom of pan to loosen; then, when bubbling hot, put the gravy in gravy boat.

Golden Wedding Anniversary Is Celebrated

KIMBERLY, Nov. 4—Friends and relatives attended the open house reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smothermon on their golden wedding anniversary at their home in Kimberly.

For the occasion, Mrs. Smothermon wore a navy silk dinner dress with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of golden garter roses, a gift from her children. A wedding picture of the couple was displayed on a table covered with a crocheted tablecloth.

The reception table was covered with an ivory lace tablecloth underscored with gold and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. White cottons separated the tiers and the cake was decorated with yellow rosebuds and gold leaves topped with a wreath of white leaves and pearls centered with a gold "50." Lighted gold tapers in crystal holders flanked the cake, which was encircled with gold pom poms. The cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Upa Allen.

The couple's daughters, Mrs. R. A. McFerran, Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Paul Burtrum, Kimberly, received and registered the guests. Their daughter, Mrs. David Rowe, Kimberly, and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wyatt Smothermon, Tyro, Kans., cut and served the cake. Punch, coffee, and Swiss crumpets were served by a daughter, Mrs. H. O. Bossman, Coffeyville, Kans., and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Loyal Smothermon, Ft. Wayne, Ind. Two granddaughters, Mrs. Katherine Rodabaugh and Mrs. Audrey Smith received and displayed gifts and cards.

Fall flower arrangements and plants, gifts from friends and relatives, decorated their home. Out-of-town guests attended from Ft. Wayne and Grabbill, Ind.; Salt Lake City, Boise, Meridian, Rupert, Eden, Gooding and Twin Falls.

Fashion Touch Is Added to Maternity Wear

By HELEN HENNESSY

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (NEA)—Nothing gives a woman the blues more quickly than knowing she can't avail herself of current fashions. And until this year, the expectant mother was out of the fashion picture.

Maternity clothes have become progressively more attractive in the past few seasons, but because the slim sheath was the current favorite fashion for daytime and evening, they did have to be "differ."

This year the lady expecting an heir is in luck. There are no such things as maternity fashions per se, current styles translate perfectly into true maternity designs.

Daytime tunics; A-lines and smocks, for instance, are every one's cup of tea, yet are perfect for the mother-to-be.

The snappiest new look is the cape, and what a good one it is for maternity wear in sporty wide wale corduroy or a wool herringbone. There is even maternity skiwear—for the spectator of course.

Today's formal evening and at-home designs are a complete reversal from the casual daytime look. And here, too, the lady who waits can cash in on elegant after-five fashions.

Long, sleeveless shifts and trapezes are perfectly suited to her fashion needs. Or she can be as glamorous as any of her friends in a shimmering sequined tunic over a long, black skirt.

For entertaining at home, a fake-fur topper or a long skirt will make her a fashionable hostess.

There's no doubt about it. This is the year to be pregnant and to look most becoming in the new styles.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

MONDAY, Nov. 4—Born today, you have a wry humor and the love of people in your very bones. Although you take life with all the seriousness it demands, it simply is not in you to walk about with a somber expression, a tense nervous system, or a heavy heart. Laughter is your own best medicine—and the medicine that you dispense freely to others. And this is true even when the laughs are on you!

One to whom people are first drawn and then attached, you should never lack for friends, both old and new. It may be that you will never have very much of a material nature to give, but always you will give of yourself—and this, of course, in the eyes of most, is the best gift possible. Only take care that you do not expend all your time and energy on others; there are times when to be alone and relaxed is vitally important to one of your generally outgoing nature.

All signs indicate that in marriage you will be one of the rare few who can play the triple role of friend, lover, and highly domesticated mate continuously and successfully. Children especially will add a great deal to your life; it should go without saying that you, in your turn, will add tremendously to theirs.

Among those born on this date are: George Edward Moore, English philosopher; Will Rogers, American humorist; James Earle Fraser, American sculptor. To find what is in store for you tomorrow, "select" your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Tuesday, Nov. 5
SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)—Observe all proprieties today as you move forward toward the attainment of an old goal.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—A cheerful countenance, a happy heart—leave this impression of yourself behind today and all should go well tomorrow!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—Be sure of your facts before you begin to bring pressure to bear for the attainment of what you think to be your "rights".

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—Listen to the voice of experience. Those who have your best interest at heart can aid you in sidestepping difficulty.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)—You may be forced into a battle of wits today; if so, take care not to underestimate your adversary.

ARIES (March 21-April 20)—Avoid voicing your opinion until such action is called for. You could lose a friend today by talking out of turn.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—A day when the reality may well be more profitable than the dream. Try it and see! You can hardly lose if you take reasonable care.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Your lucky day should matters turn on a point of real estate. Move effectively when the opportunity presents itself.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—Take into consideration the greatest need of those nearest and dearest to you; it may be quite different from your own!

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—A chance for advancement should not find the fortunate Leo unprepared. Jump at the chance—but look where you're going!

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Where you find yourself in a position of authority, distribute your favors wisely, and avoid any hard feelings.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—Where you find yourself in a position of authority, distribute your favors wisely, and avoid any hard feelings.

Youths Grow up Too Fast, Two Educators Say

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. — Parents throw teen-agers at each other and then wonder why they slack according to two educators commenting on the rising rate of early marriages in the United States.

The two, Dr. Emory Stoops and Dr. Max Rafferty, mention the early teen-age parties, the dances, the dating — the "you name it," as part of the social pattern of today's young set.

"Don't be in such a confounded hurry" to get your children into the adult world, the two advise.

"Let Susie be a tomboy, climb trees, play sandlot baseball and ride her bike in blue jeans and string hair. There'll be plenty of time for high heels, perfume, low necks . . . later . . ."

The two urge parents to work to retain their children's confidence, to have time always to listen and be interested. "And don't condemn, don't moralize," they add.

"When teen-age romance pops up . . . you can listen, understand and wait."

"Yes," they continue, "you can guide a little, but not too much. Too much interference and they'll tune you out."

"When teen-agers talk out their romances with you, they solve most of them just in the talking . . . that's why you must keep the line of communications open."

Dr. Stoops, father of three, is professor of educational administration at the University of California. Dr. Rafferty, also father of three, is superintendent of public instruction for California.

The two have just published a breezy and short — 60 pages — book on child guidance called "Just A Minute, Junior" (The Economics Press, West Orange, N. J.).

Dr. Rafferty said he had applied the methods described in the book on his own three children and "so far, none of them has wound up in reform school."

They discuss rearing children from cradle to college. They advise against supplying a teen-ager with a car.

"Boy plus car equal lower marks," the two say. And if this fact isn't enough to discourage you, they add, consider these:

"Teen-agers need the walking. His own car gives Willie more mobility; he's harder to keep track of, harder to lay hands on when you want him."

The teen-age accident rate is shocking!

The solution when the teen-ager wants a car, the A educators say, is to teach the children to drive the family car. B educators say, is to teach the children to drive the family car. But by degrees.

The two men mention the wrong kinds of punishment at any age. They include: any punishment which makes the child feel his parents dislike him personally; punishment for something the child cannot help. "If he's stupid, blame yourselves," they say. "Which parent did he get it from?"

The two don't rule out spanking.

"Corporal punishment," they say, "works with SOME children SOMETIMES. It is a tool of discipline, but it's not magic. And it's easy to overwork. Use it only as a last resort, to reinstate your verbal control. But not while you're mad, please."

Golden Wedding Anniversary Is Celebrated

KIMBERLY, Nov. 4 — Friends and relatives attended the open house reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smotherman on their golden wedding anniversary at their home in Kimberly.

For the occasion, Mrs. Smotherman wore a navy silk dinner dress with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of golden garnet roses, a gift from her children. A wedding picture of the couple was displayed on a table covered with a crocheted tablecloth.

The reception table was covered with an ecru lace tablecloth underscored with gold and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. White colonnades separated the tiers and the cake was decorated with yellow roses and gold leaves, topped with a wreath of white leaves and pearls centered with a gold "50." Lighted gold tapers in crystal holders flanked the cake which was encircled with gold pom poms. The cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Uba Allen.

The couples' daughters, Mrs. R. A. McFerran, Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Paul Buttrum, Kimberly, received and registered the guests. Their daughter, Mrs. David Rowe, Kimberly, and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wyatt Smotherman, Tyro, Kans., cut and served the cake. Punch, coffee, and Swiss crumpets were served by a daughter, Mrs. H. O. Bossman, Coffeyville, Kans., and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Loyal Smotherman, Ft. Wayne, Ind. Two granddaughters, Mrs. Katherine Rodabaugh and Mrs. Audrey Smith received and displayed gifts and cards.

Fashion Touch Is Added to Maternity Wear

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (NEA)— Nothing gives a woman the blues more quickly than knowing she can't avail herself of current fashions. And until this year, the expectant mother was out of the fashion picture.

Maternity clothes have become progressively more attractive in the past few seasons, but because the slim sheath was the current favorite fashion for daytime and evening, they did have to be "different."

This year the lady expecting an heir is in luck. There are no longer "bump" or "maternity" lines per se. Current styles translate perfectly into true maternity designs.

Daytime tunics, A-lines and smocks, for instance, are everyone's cup of tea, yet are perfect for the mother-to-be.

The snappiest new look is the cape, and what a good one it is for maternity wear—in sporty wide waist corduroy or a wool herringbone. There is even maternity skiwear—for the spectator, of course.

Today's formal evening and at-home designs are a complete reversal from the casual daytime look. And here, too, the lady who waits can cash in on elegant after-five fashions.

Long, sleeveless shifts and trapezes are perfectly suited to her fashion needs. Or she can be as glamorous as any of her friends in a shimmering sequined tunic over a long, black skirt.

For entertaining at-home, a fake-fur topper, flaring out over plaid pants or a long skirt will make her a fashionable hostess.

There's no doubt about it. This is the year to be pregnant and to look most becoming in the new styles.

TITLE PASSES GIANTS PAST ST. LOUIS 38-21

Y.A. Gets Out of Sick Bed, Tosses 4 Scoring Bombs

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 4 (AP) — Y. A. Tittle threw four touchdown passes, three in the second period, to lead the New York Giants to a 38-21 National Football league victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday.

Title Lauds Cardinals' Quarterback

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 4 (AP) — New York's Y. A. Tittle, who came off a sick bed and led the Giants to a 38-21 National Football league victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday, dressed warmly after the game and walked into the Cardinals dressing room Sunday.

"You played a whale of a ball game, boy," he said to Charley Johnson, the Cardinals' youthful quarterback. "You worried me."

Johnson, blond and crew cut and looking young enough to be Tittle's son, shook his head.

"Tell me, Y. A.," Johnson said, "how do you get started so fast? What am I doing wrong? You make it look so easy, but I can't seem to get started, what should I do?"

Tittle, a black hat covering his balding head, smiled.

"Why, you threw the ball out of that ball? You don't need any pointers. Besides, you don't expect me to give you any of my secrets when we still have another game to play, do you?"

Giants Coach Kyle Rote said Tittle had a virus, but after asking a physician for permission to get out of bed and play, Tittle went on the field. In the second period alone, he threw for three touchdowns—as many as seven opponents had managed to do against the Cardinals all season.

"That Cardinal defense was tough, although I had plenty of pass protection," Tittle said. "Give all the credit to the receivers. When you get guys like Frank Gifford, Aaron Thomas and Del Shofner catching, all you have to do is throw the ball."

"I was just feeling my way on short passes for the first quarter, trying to find out how the Cardinals would react," Tittle said. "Then in the second period I found I could go for the long one and I did."

Miss Smith Is Tourney Winner

CARLSBAD, N.M., Nov. 4 (AP) — Marilyn Smith won the second annual Cavern City open golf tournament Sunday with a four-under-par 213 despite final day wind gusts of 35 miles per hour which ballooned scores.

The victory was worth $1,200 of the $1,500 purse. Marlene Hagg took home $950 for second and Sandra Haynie got $750 for third.

The big winner, however, was Ladies Professional Golf association rookie of the year Clifford Ann Creed, who won a special $2,000 prize offered by a Carlsbad cafe owner for a hole in one.

Miss Creed, who finished fifth, scored the ace with a six iron on the 145-yard 18th hole as Tony Hernandez, the man who put up the money, watched.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 4 (AP) — The victory gave New York's Tittle possession of second place in the NFL's Eastern division, a game behind Cleveland, which defeated Philadelphia 23-17. The Cards went into the game tied with New York for second.

On a post-game radio show broadcast to New York by Giants' backfield coach Kyle Rote, it was revealed that Tittle had been a doubtful starter almost up to game time. Rote said Tittle was in bed with the virus, and was finally given permission by a doctor to play in the key clash.

The Cardinals' effort fell short as Charley Johnson, the 24-year-old St. Louis quarterback, passed for two touchdowns and Bill Triplett scored another from the two. But Johnson's two touchdowns—each for 13 yards—to Joe Childress and Bobby Joe Conrad—couldn't match New York's bald bomber.

Tittle, the 36-year-old Giant aerial ace, practically passed the Big Red off the field. Aided by four Giant pass interceptions and three fumble recoveries, Tittle's daring passing left the Cardinals limp.

In the first half alone, Tittle completed 14 of 19 passes for 295 yards and four touchdowns. He had one interception.

After Don Chandler's first period field goal, Tittle's second quarter rampage started with 42 seconds gone on a 41-yard touchdown pass to Frank Gifford. He then threw two more to Aaron Thomas, one about nine minutes later for 28 yards and the other with seven seconds left from the one-yard line.

Another 41-yard Tittle pass to Thomas in the end zone in the third period was called back because of holding. But Tittle quickly threw 40 yards to Del Shofner for his fourth touchdown pass.

Gifford's fourth period touchdown in the fourth period when Phil King scored from the one yard line after Erich Barnes intercepted a pass, lateraling to Bill Winter, who returned to the St. Louis six.

Dwindling

By The Associated Press
The list of perfect-record college football teams was down to 29 Sunday, including just three major schools—Texas, Auburn and Princeton.

Bowling Green, which had assumed the nation's longest current major school winning streak at eight after Dartmouth's defeat a week ago, was the sole major casualty of the weekend. Also falling from the list were two small colleges—Arkansas A and M and North Carolina A and T.

Passing Sub Hurls Bills Past Denver

DENVER, Nov. 4 (AP) — Reserve quarterbacks flipped long distance passes at a dizzying clip Sunday as Buffalo beat Denver 30-28 in a loose battle between the two division-collaring teams in the American Football league.

Denver's Don Breaux uncorked touchdown strikes covering 70, 45, 43 and 27 yards. He took over the controls in the second period after starter Mickey Slaughter failed to hit the scoreboard.

Daryle Lamonia, taking for the injured Jack Kemp in the second quarter, countered with Buffalo scoring throws, covering 74 and 35 yards.

But the difference turned out to be Mack Yoho's 22-yard field goal in the third quarter. Denver just missed pulling out the victory with 2:57 left when Gene Mingo's 53-yard field goal try was just a shade wide.

He jumped up and down in a little victory celebration and figuratively pushed the ball deeper into the hole while pocketing a check for $3,500.

George Baker, Bob Roshurg and Alex Sutton tied for fifth at 280 while Jim Ferree and Wlone Hebert were eighth at 281.

Geiberg, who had fired 69-67 in the first three rounds, had his first challenge Sunday come from Jay Hebert. As Geiberg twice three-putted and Hebert dumped in a 30-foot chip shot, the margin slipped to one stroke after seven holes. But Hebert fell back with bogies at eight and 10 and Geiberg birdied the ninth.

The next challenge came from Tom who was trying to become the first amateur in seven years to win a PGA tournament.

He was out in 34 and added two more back-nine birdies. But he missed the par 3 15th green for a bogie and a seven-foot putt at the 18th broke left of the cup.

Then came Harrison, who had missed a hole-in-one at the 210-yard fourth hole by only one inch. He got his birdie at 18 but then so did Geiberg in closing his 37-37 round.

Geiberg Birdies Last Hole to Win

SAN JOSE, Calif., Nov. 4 (AP) — Lean Al Geiberg plopped in a four-foot birdie putt on the final hole to win the $25,000 Almaden open golf tournament Sunday by one stroke over Dutch Harrison and amateur Dick Lotz. Geiberg could manage only a two-over-par 74 on the final round for a 277 total. The four-stroke lead that the defending champion carried into the final day had completely disintegrated by the time he reached the 435-yard 18th hole. Lotz, 21, Hayward, Calif., had finished moments ahead of Geiberg with a 68 and 278 total.

Geiberg belted his second shot on the 18th to within four feet of the pin. While he waited to putt, Harrison dropped a six-foot birdie putt to finish his 69 round and tie Lotz.

Jay Hebert missed his long birdie try, wound up at 72-278. Geiberg, former University of Southern California star, studied his putt for several minutes, then stroked the ball squarely into the middle of the cup.

He jumped up and down in a little victory celebration and figuratively pushed the ball deeper into the hole while pocketing a check for $3,500.

Alongi Has Last Shot at Big Time

By The Associated Press
Tony Alongi, a towering young heavyweight, gets one more shot to make the heavyweight title fight Friday night when he meets rugged George Chuvalo, Toronto, in the television fight of the week.

The 24-year-old, 6-foot, 5-inch Alongi and Chuvalo, chunky, 26-year-old former Canadian heavyweight champion, clash in a 10-funder at the Miami Beach, Fla., auditorium. The bout will be telecast by ABC-TV. Starting time is 10 p. m. EST.

Alongi lost a chance to step up among the heavyweight division's top ten when he was stopped in the fifth round this year by contender Billy Daniels. In his next two fights he scored knockouts, the last over Don Warner.

His record is 31-2 including 19 knockouts. He was stopped earlier in his career by Rodolfo Diaz, Alongi, a native of Passaic, N. J., now lives in Miami Beach.

This also is another opportunity for Chuvalo to make a hit on television. The Canadian has won five straight, including four by knockouts, in his comeback this year following a 1962 lay-off. His record is 25-7-1, including 19 knockouts. Once a ranking fighter, he is not listed now.

Eddie Machen, the former No. 1 contender, continues his comeback campaign on Tuesday night. The clever but cautious boxer meets Bill McMurray of Sacramento at Sacramento.

Machen had been out of action for more than a year with a mental illness until he resumed actively recently. He now fights out of Santa Monica and under new management.

Kopay Cited as Back of Week

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4 (AP) — Dave Kopay, who was too slow for Washington's 1962 backfield, was chosen AAWU back of the week today for his play in the Huskies' upset 22-7 victory over USC Saturday.

Kopay, who got his letter in his sophomore year, did not get enough playing time in 1962 to win a second numeral. He was a question mark as the Washington team was being made up this year.

Brown Rips for 223 Yards, Paces Cleveland Win

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4 (AP) — The irrepressible Jimmy Brown ripped for 223 yards, scoring one touchdown and setting up three Lou Groza field goals and another touchdown as the Cleveland Browns whipped the Philadelphia Eagles 23-17 before a sellout crowd of 60,671 here Sunday. So effective was the running of the 228-pound fullback that the quarterback Frank Ryan threw but nine passes — good for 70 yards.

The powerful Brown wasted little time getting under way as he raced 62 yards for a touchdown on the fourth play of the game. Groza booted the first of two conversions and Cleveland led 7-0.

It looked as if the Browns were off to their second rout of the Eagles this season, but Philadelphia bounced back to take the lead before Brown's rushes settled the issue.

The crippled Eagles, playing without their injured passer, Sonny Jurgensen, moved from the Cleveland 48 to the 14 where the Browns stiffened and Mike Clark bogied a field goal.

In the second period, trailing 7-3, linebacker Max Baughan intercepted a Ryan pass and returned nine to the Cleveland 21. Quarterback King Hill passed 17 to Tim Brown for a first down at the seven and three plays later Clarence Peaks cracked over from the two. Clark converted giving the Eagles a 10-7 lead.

Cleveland, however, marched from its 20 after the ensuing kickoff to the Eagles two with Brown contributing 49 yards to the effort. When the Eagles held Groza booted the first of his field goals from the nine tying the game.

A pair of field goals within 16 seconds late in the second period sent Cleveland ahead to stay. Peaks fumbled and Larry Benz recovered at the Cleveland 46. Four plays and a 15-yard personal foul penalty moved the ball to the Eagles 21, and Groza kicked a 22-yard field goal.

On the first play after the kickoff, Tim Brown fumbled at the Philadelphia 27. Cleveland recovered and Groza hit for three points from the 34, with eight seconds left in the half making it 16-10.

Bears Take 17-7 Win Over Colts

BALTIMORE, Nov. 4 (AP) — The Chicago Bears rode their fortress defense and ball control offense to their seventh victory in eight National Football league games Sunday by a 17-7 score over the Baltimore Colts.

The Chicago defense harassed quarterback Johnny Unitas of the Colts almost to the point of distraction, holding him to a net gain of 15 yards in the first half.

In addition, they intercepted one of his passes which led to one of Chicago's two touchdowns and forced him to fumble when the Colts finally seemed to have caught a spark in the third quarter.

Quarterback Bill Wade of the Bears just enough to keep the Bear running attack moving. The first time Wade passed was to get himself out of a deep hole and it led to a touchdown. Apparently tackled by linebacker Jackie Burkett on his own five Wade threw a safety valve pass across the field to fullback Joe Marconi, who rumbled 63 yards downfield.

Seven plays later, Wade plunged over the goal.

The Bear defense took over. In the second quarter, the Colts had only four plays. They lost 14 yards and the ball on a fumble.

Joe Fortunato intercepted a Unitas pass and returned it to the Colts 25 to set up the other Bear touchdown in the third quarter. Wade lobbed a pass to fullback Rick Casares, who carried it in from the 16-yard line.

Halfback Lenny Moore, playing tight halfback for the first time this season, gave the Colts their only offensive punch in the third quarter. He reeled off a 17-yard gain and then sprinted 25 more for the first touchdown scored by the Colts against the Bears in their last three games.

Punt Return Lets Raiders Beat Chiefs

OAKLAND, Calif., Nov. 4 (AP) — Defensive halfback Claude Gibson, with the aid of timely blocking, raced 85 yards on a punt return that gave the Oakland Raiders a 10-7 victory over the Kansas City Chiefs Sunday.

Gibson's fourth-quarter, game-winning run climaxed a great defensive battle between two evenly matched teams. He took the punt on his own 15-yard line, got blocking as he moved to the left sidelines, and managed to elude a diving tackle by the only man left between him and the goal — defensive halfback Eddie Wilson.

Gibson's 85-yard punt return was a league record. The previous mark, 76 yards, was set by Gene Mingo, Denver, Jan. 1960.

Oakland got on the scoreboard first in the second quarter with Mike Mercer kicking a 10 with a downfield drive that culminated with 190-pound halfback Abner Haynes plunging for the touchdown from the one-yard line. Tommy Brooker kicked the conversion.

That was all the scoring, until Gibson's final run.

U.S. Team Beats India In Last Obstacle Before Davis Cup Tennis Finals

BOMBAY, India, Nov. 4 (P)—"I know these boys can beat the Aussies." This was the confident prediction of non-playing captain Bob Kelleher of Los Angeles Monday after the U. S. Davis cup team had clinched a victory over India and a trip into the challenge round against Australia. "If we're playing as well as we can play, we will bring home the cup," the West Coast attorney added. "It's just a matter of putting the maximum pressure in the right place at the right time."

Green Bay's Running Buries Pittsburgh

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 4 (P)—The mighty Green Bay Packers punished Pittsburgh's defense with a bruising ground game powered by Jim Taylor and set up four field goals by Jerry Kramer Sunday in belting the Steelers 39-14. It was their seventh straight National Football league victory after an opening-game loss.

Taylor, the 1962 rushing and scoring king, bulled his way for one touchdown and 441 yards in 30 carries as the Packers kept pace with the Chicago Bears, each with 7-1 records, in the Western division.

Kramer, an all-NFL choice as an offensive guard, booted field goals from 23, 36, 12 and 23 yards out when Green Bay drives stalled. He also contributed four conversions.

Eliah Pille, a reserve half-back, scored two touchdowns in spelling Tom Moore on brief occasions for the Packers. Pille tallied on a two-yard burst in the third period and on a one-yard plunge with less than two minutes remaining.

The Steelers stung the Packers with a touchdown after 11 seconds of play. Gary Ballman returned the opening kickoff 93 yards to the Green Bay two and Dick Hoak hit left guard for a touchdown on the initial play from scrimmage.

The Packers then took charge, but the best they could do was add three field goals by Kramer before the halftime intermission. They were stymied by penalties and once by a pass interception.

Green Bay secured the decision with touchdowns the first two times they had the ball in the third period. The Packers moved 73 yards in eight plays with the second-half kickoff, Taylor slugging into the end zone, and then scored from their 27 in 11 plays for Pille's first touchdown.

Kramer booted his fourth field goal at the outset of the final quarter before the Steelers managed their only touchdown, scored on a 33-yard pass from Ed Brown to Bill Mack in the end zone.

Royals Outlast 76ers 95-93
DAYTON, O., Nov. 4 (P)—Oscar Robertson's clutch shooting in the closing minutes of the game enabled the Cincinnati Royals to post a 95-93 victory over the Philadelphia 76ers at the University of Dayton fieldhouse Sunday night.

The Royals led by only 88-83 with three minutes left in the game when their leading rebounder, Jerry Lucas, fouled out. Robertson played a virtual one-man game on offense to keep the Royals in front.

At intermission Detroit had a 10-7 lead after three Morrill-to-Barr passes gained 75 yards in a touchdown drive of 80. The scoring throw went the 10 final yards to Barr, who eluded defensive halfback Kermit Alexander as he did most of the afternoon.

San Francisco had capitalized on a pass interception by line backer Mike Dowdle to get into their first quarter lead that actually lasted until less than two minutes remained in the half.

Lions Collect On 4 Passes To Top 49ers
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4 (P)—Detroit quarterback Earl Morrill fired four touchdown passes, with Terry Barr grabbing three of them, in a 45-7 victory over San Francisco's faltering 49ers Sunday.

The former Michigan State signal caller and his halfback targeter from Michigan teamed up to befuddle the 49er defense and scored touchdowns on passes of 10, 21 and 8 yards.

Another Morrill scoring aerial went 10 yards to Tom Watkins, who also scored on a five-yard run. Reserve Nick Ryder plunged over from the two for the final Detroit touchdown. Milt Plum contributed a 20-yard field goal and six conversions in the rout.

The Lions' defense, meanwhile, throttled the 49ers effectively after the home club took a 7-0 lead in the first quarter on a 19-yard pass from Lamar McHan to Bernie Casey. Detroit intercepted four passes and just as effectively stopped the ground attack.

Wounded
POCATELLO, Nov. 4 (P)—A former Idaho all-state high school player, Terry Campbell, 19, was listed in fair condition in Barnock Memorial hospital after a gunshot wound.

Sheriff's deputies said Campbell was accidentally shot in the left leg about 7:30 p.m. at Cherry Springs, a recreation area just south of Pocatello. He underwent surgery for removal of the bullet Saturday night.

The former Michigan State signal caller and his halfback targeter from Michigan teamed up to befuddle the 49er defense and scored touchdowns on passes of 10, 21 and 8 yards.

Another Morrill scoring aerial went 10 yards to Tom Watkins, who also scored on a five-yard run. Reserve Nick Ryder plunged over from the two for the final Detroit touchdown. Milt Plum contributed a 20-yard field goal and six conversions in the rout.

The Lions' defense, meanwhile, throttled the 49ers effectively after the home club took a 7-0 lead in the first quarter on a 19-yard pass from Lamar McHan to Bernie Casey. Detroit intercepted four passes and just as effectively stopped the ground attack.

Bruins Handle Red Wings 4-1
BOSTON, Nov. 4 (P)—Winger Tom Williams sparked a newly reorganized Boston line with two goals and an assist as the Bruins handed Detroit a 4-1 National Hockey league defeat Sunday night.

Converted defenseman Leo Bolvin, the principal reason Gordie Howe failed again to come up with an all-time record 545th goal—also scored for the Bruins, who equaled their biggest offensive show of the season.

Howe managed only two shots on net, mainly because of Bolvin's bone-rattling checks.

Trull Stars In Baylor's Cliff-Hangers
WACO, Tex., Nov. 4 (P)—If they ever resurrect the cliff hanger types for the movies, maybe they should hire Don Trull to write the plots.

Trull is a crew-cut fellow from Oklahoma City who runs the Baylor Bears when they have the ball, and his specialty is come-from-behind.

He did it again Saturday against a very respectable Texas A-M Christian team after going into the fourth quarter trailing 13-12.

Dauntless Don engineered three fourth-quarter touchdowns in a style that must be worrying the Texas Longhorns at this very minute, even if Texas is No. 1 in the nation.

The Longhorns and the Bears go into next Saturday's battle of the year with records of four victories and no losses in the Southwest Conference.

The team that walks off the field a happy winner Saturday may be the one that picks up the big marbles in the conference—in this case an automatic invitation to the Cotton Bowl—New Year's day and a considerable amount of loot for the school athletic department.

One veteran sports writer said after Don brought his team from behind:

"I never saw anything like it. He simply played around for three quarters probing the holes in the defense, and when he did decide to move it was all over for Texas Tech."

The observer had watched Trull tear Texas Tech apart in the fourth quarter as Baylor won 21-17.

Against Arkansas, Trull did much the same thing, bringing Baylor from deficits of 3-0 and 10-7 to win the game 14-10.

GATE OPENING BLOCK enables Washington Redskins' full-back Don Bossler (31) to go for a short gain against the Dallas Cowboys Sunday. Coming in behind Bossler is John Meyers.

Dallas Uses Breaks to Beat Washington
DALLAS, Nov. 4 (P)—Mike Gaechter and Cornell Green in return by Amos Bullock led to a fourth Sunday as the Dallas Cowboys beat the Washington Redskins 35-20.

It, too. He passed for four touchdowns and his passing set up the fifth. Two of his touchdown throws were to Lee Folkins and two were to Frank Clarke.

Washington led Dallas 10-7 at one time, but the Cowboys' adeptness at picking off Norman Sneed's passes shot Dallas back ahead. The turning point was an 80-yard run with a pass interception by Gaechter that set up a Dallas touchdown.

A crowd of 18,838 sat under lowering skies in the Cotton bowl to watch Dallas draw even with Washington at sixth and last place in the National Football league.

Each has a 2-6 record.

All told Dallas picked off four passes, three of them on Sneed and the other on George Izo. The latter didn't figure in a score, however.

Green grabbed a pass out of the hands of Bobby Mitchell, the heralded Washington receiver, to set up the third Dallas touchdown. He ran it back 31 yards to the Dallas 49. Meredith shoved the drive along with his passing and a Washington penalty for roughing the passer helped.

Sneed passed for 49 yards in a drive that got Washington a touchdown early in the fourth period. He pitched to Fred Dugan for 19 and the score as the Redskins drew within a point of Dallas at 21-20.

But Bullock's 52-yard kickoff return got Dallas on the way to another touchdown shortly afterward and the Redskins never could get close again.

Bob Khayat kicked field goals of 12 and 49 yards for six of the Washington points. Sneed passed to Dugan for both of the Redskins touchdowns, the first a 41-yard shot.

Vikings Rally To Overcome Rams 21-13

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 4 (P)—Frank Tarkenton rallied sputtering Minnesota to two quick touchdowns early in the second half and the Vikings snatched the Los Angeles Rams the rest of the way to carve out a 21-13 National Football league victory Sunday.

The win snapped a four-game Minnesota losing streak and halted the Rams' modest victory streak at two.

Tarkenton hit five passes in as many attempts for 54 yards in directing a 71-yard Viking scoring drive to open the second half. Minnesota went ahead for good at 14-10 as Tarkenton passed 10 yards to Jerry Reichow.

Less than a minute later, the Vikings had another touchdown. The Rams' Ben Wilson, fumbled and Minnesota's Karl Kasulka recovered for the Vikings on Los Angeles' 27-yard line.

On the first play, Tarkenton his Paul Flattery in the corner of the end zone for a touchdown that raised the Viking margin to 21-10.

All the Rams mustered after that was Danny Villanueva's 40-yard field goal in the fourth period.

Tarkenton, able to complete only four of eight passes for 28 yards in the first half as the Rams put on a terrific rush, connected on nine of 11 after intermission for 122 yards and the two scores.

The Vikings also got a big boost the second half from Tommy Mason's running. He finished with 79 yards in 16 carries.

Weatherly Is Repeat King Of NASCAR
RIVERSIDE, Calif., Nov. 4 (P)—Darel Dieringer won the race and Joe Weatherly won his second straight NASCAR Grand national driving title Sunday in the first running of the Golden State 400 for stock cars at Riverside racetrack.

Dieringer, a 37-year-old racing veteran from Charlotte, N.C., took the lead from young Dave MacDonald, El Monte, Calif., with about 80 miles to go, and beat him by more than a mile.

The 400-mile event was run on a winding, 2.7-mile course before a crowd of about 32,500. There were several accidents but no injuries of consequence.

Weatherly, Norfolk, Va., finished ninth but was unable to retain his NASCAR title.

Richard Petty, Randeman, N.C., could have overtaken Weatherly in the point standings by finishing 17 positions ahead of him Sunday, but transmission troubles forced Petty from the race after nine laps.

Dieringer, driving a 1963 Mercury, averaged 91.645 miles an hour, covered the 400 miles in four hours 28 minutes and 17 seconds and won $7,415 of the $41,000 purse. It was Dieringer's first NASCAR victory and the first victory for a Mercury in a NASCAR event this year.

No Money
Babe Hickey, former Twin Falls resident and golf pro playing out of Pocatello, failed to place in the money during the Almaden golf tournament Sunday.

Hickey, thanks to a double eagle, had shared the first-day lead with eventual winner Al Geiberger.

Canadiens Strafe Plante, Rangers

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (P)—The Montreal Canadiens strafed their former goalie, Jacques Plante, for the second time this season in a 5-3 victory over the New York Rangers Sunday. The National Hockey league game was played before a sellout crowd of 15,926 at Madison Square garden.

The triumph moved Montreal into second place with two straight victories since Charley Hodge replaced injured clump Worsley, the ex-hanger goaltender.
